Important Information About Your Policy

The following provides you with information about changes to your home/auto policy, effective upon its renewal.

This message is provided for informational purposes only. It is not a part of your policy and does not affect or provide coverage, in and of itself. Since the policy, including its declarations and endorsements, is your contract with us, it takes precedence over this message. For a more detailed description of your coverage, please refer to your policy documents.

REDUCTION IN COVERAGE

Your policy contract currently includes a condition for Duties After Loss that indicates you must give prompt written notice to us or our agent without unnecessary delay. We have updated the conditions of your policy to specify that in the case of a loss caused by Windstorm or Hail you must provide notice to us within 365 days after the loss. In some instances, this may be a reduction in coverage.

If you have any questions, please contact your Farmers[®] agent.

Policy Notices

Notice to Consumer - California Residential Property Insurance Disclosure

Policy Number: 33667-75-00

Insured's Name: Pamela Jane Nye Family Trust

This disclosure is required by Section 10102 of the California Insurance Code. This form provides general information related to residential property insurance and is not part of your residential property insurance policy. Only the specific provisions of your policy will determine whether a particular loss is covered and the amount payable. The information provided does not preempt existing California law.

Primary Forms of Residential Dwellings Coverage

You have purchased the coverage(s) checked below. Note: Actual Cash Value Coverage is the most limited level of coverage listed. Guaranteed Replacement Cost is the broadest level of coverage.

- ☐ Actual Cash Value Coverage for either a total or partial loss to the structure or its contents pays the amount it would cost you to repair, rebuild, or replace the thing lost or injured, less a fair and reasonable deduction for physical depreciation based upon its condition at the time of the injury or the policy limit, whichever is less. A deduction for physical depreciation applies only to components of a structure that are normally subject to repair and replacement during the useful life of that structure.
 - ☐ Replacement Cost Coverage is intended to provide for the cost to repair or replace the damaged or destroyed dwelling, without a deduction for physical depreciation. Many policies pay only the dwelling's actual cash value until the insured has actually begun or completed repairs or reconstruction on the dwelling. Coverage only pays for replacement costs up to the limits specified in your policy.
 - ☒ Extended Replacement Cost Coverage is intended to provide for the cost to repair or replace the damaged or destroyed dwelling without a deduction for physical depreciation. Many policies pay only the dwelling's actual cash value until the insured has actually begun or completed repairs or reconstruction on the dwelling. Extended Replacement Cost provides additional coverage above the dwelling limits up to a stated percentage or specific dollar amount. See your policy for the additional coverage that applies.
- N/A* Guaranteed Replacement Cost Coverage covers the full cost to repair or replace the damaged or destroyed dwelling for a covered peril regardless of the dwelling limits shown on the policy declarations page.
- ☒ Building Code Upgrade Coverage, also called Ordinance and Law coverage, covers additional costs to repair or replace a dwelling to comply with the building codes and zoning laws in effect at the time of loss or rebuilding. These costs may otherwise be excluded by your policy. Meeting current building code requirements can add significant costs to rebuilding your home. Refer to your policy or endorsement for the specific coverage provided and coverage limits that apply.

*N/A = Not available

Read Your Policy and Policy Declarations Page Carefully: The policy declarations page shows the specific coverage limits you have purchased for your dwelling, personal property, separate structures such as detached garages, and additional living expenses. The actual policy and endorsements provide the details on extensions of coverage, limitations of coverage, and coverage conditions and exclusions. The amount of any claim payment made to you will be reduced by any applicable deductibles shown on your policy declarations page. It is important to take the time to consider whether the limits and limitations of your policy meet your needs. Contact your agent, broker, or insurance company if you have questions about what is covered or if you want to discuss your coverage options.

Information You Should Know About Residential Dwelling Insurance

Avoid Being Underinsured: Insuring your home for less than its replacement cost may result in your having to pay thousands of dollars out of your own pocket to rebuild your home if it is completely destroyed. Contact your agent, broker, or insurance company immediately if you believe your policy limits may be inadequate.

The Residential Dwelling Coverage Limit: The coverage limit on the dwelling structure should be high enough so you can rebuild your home if it is completely destroyed. Please note:

- The cost to rebuild your home is almost always different from the market value.
- Dwelling coverage limits do not cover the value of your land.
- The estimate to rebuild your home should be based on construction costs in your area and should be adjusted to account for the features of your home. These features include but are not limited to the square footage, type of foundation, number of stories, and the quality of the materials used for items such as flooring, countertops, windows, cabinetry, lighting and plumbing.
- The cost to rebuild your home should be adjusted each year to account for inflation.
- Coverage limits for contents, separate structures, additional living expenses and debris removal are usually based on a percentage of the limit for the dwelling. If your dwelling limit is too low, these coverage limits may also be too low.

You are encouraged to obtain a current estimate of the cost to rebuild your home from your insurance agent, broker, or insurance company or an independent appraisal from a local contractor, architect, or real estate appraiser. If you do obtain an estimate of replacement value, and wish to change your policy limits, contact your insurance company. While not a guarantee, a current estimate can help protect you against being underinsured.

Demand Surge: After a widespread disaster, the cost of construction can increase dramatically as a result of the unusually high demand for contractors, building supplies and construction labor. This effect is known as demand surge. Demand surge can increase the cost of rebuilding your home. Consider increasing your coverage limits or purchasing Extended Replacement Cost coverage to prepare for this possibility.

Changes to Property: Changes to your property may increase its replacement cost. These changes may include the building of additions, customizing your kitchen or bathrooms, or otherwise remodeling your home. Failure to advise your insurance company of any significant changes to your property may result in your home being underinsured.

Exclusions: Not all causes of damage are covered by common homeowners or residential fire policies. You need to read your policy to see what causes of loss or perils are not covered. Coverage for landslide is typically excluded. Some excluded perils such as earthquake or flood can be purchased as an endorsement to your policy or as a separate policy. Contact your agent, broker, or insurance company if you have a concern about any of the exclusions in your policy.

Contents (Personal Property) Coverage Disclosure:

This disclosure form does not explain the types of contents coverage provided by your policy for items such as your furniture or clothing. Contents may be covered on either an actual cash value or replacement cost basis depending on the contract. Almost all policies include specific dollar limitations on certain property that is particularly valuable, such as jewelry, art, or silverware. Contact your agent, broker or insurance company if you have any questions about your contents coverage. You should create a list of all personal property in and around your home. Pictures and video recordings also help you document your property. The list, photos, and video should be stored away from your home.

California Insurance Department's Homeowners Coverage Comparison Tool

We do not offer at least 50 percent extended replacement cost coverage for this policy. Policies offering extended replacement cost coverage of at least 50 percent may be available for your property. The California Insurance Department developed a Homeowners Coverage Comparison Tool to assist homeowners in finding insurance coverage. This tool can be found on the department's internet website, www.insurance.ca.gov.

Did You Know?

We provide this handout to let you know about discounts and surcharges that may affect your insurance premium, depending on the type of policy you have. A discount means you pay less. A surcharge means you pay more. This is for your information only and is not an offer of insurance or part of your policy.

Discounts - Here are some ways to get a discount on your premium:

- Go three years without a "qualified" loss. This is a sizable discount.
To find out what "qualified" means, see the next section.
- Have your auto, umbrella and life policies with us.
This applies when a qualifying Auto, Umbrella or Life policy is issued by a member company of the Farmers Insurance Group of Companies®.
- Have your earthquake coverage with the California Earthquake Authority.
This applies when a qualifying earthquake policy is issued by the California Earthquake Authority.
- Have automatic shut-off valves installed on all fuel lines, or own an electric / all solar home.
This applies when automatic shut-off valves are professionally installed on gas and/or propane lines, or the dwelling is all electric/all solar and has no external fuel lines.
- Buy a newly constructed house or system replacement to your old one.
This applies when your home was built within the past 13 years or renovated by a qualified contractor within the past 13 years. System replacements include heating, electrical and plumbing systems.
- Have certain types of protective devices installed in your house.
This applies, with certain restrictions, to alarms for burglar intrusion.
- Have your business policy with us.
This applies when a qualified commercial policy is issued by a member company of the Farmers Insurance Group of Companies.
- Be a non-smoker.
This applies when everyone who lives in your household has not smoked tobacco products for at least two years.

Surcharges - The following describes when you could pay a higher premium:

- You've had one or more qualified (we explain "qualified" below) losses in the past five years.
We remove the surcharge on the first renewal date after the five-year anniversary of each loss.

Do you have questions? Would you like a detailed explanation of any of these discounts and surcharges? If yes, please call your Farmers[®] agent.

Definition of Qualified Loss

In the context of discounts and surcharges, damages paid for certain types of losses are "qualified losses." The simplest way to explain what is a qualified loss is to list what it isn't: Any loss paid under any property policy for damages to covered property resulting from one of the causes of loss listed below is not a qualified loss. In other words, any of the following losses paid under any property policy resulting from any of the following causes of loss does not count against you and does not affect discounts or surcharges:

- Earthquake
- Loss associated with a catastrophic event, as identified by the Farmers National Catastrophe Claims Center for claims filed with Farmers on or prior to June 30, 2011. For all other catastrophic claims, these are as identified by insurance Services Office's Property Claim Services (PCS).
- Losses in which the net paid amount does not exceed $500.
- Losses paid under the Residence Glass Endorsement, provided the loss does not exceed your policy deductible at the time of loss.
- Additional Living Expenses (ALE) paid only under Prohibited Use coverage, or similar forced evacuation provisions under any insurance policy.
- Loss paid under Identity Fraud Expense Coverage Endorsement.
- Prior owner's loss activity that occurred at the property (Location Only Losses).
- Losses paid under Equipment Breakdown coverage.
- Losses paid under Service Line coverage.
- Losses that occurred on different residential policy types.

For example, we do not count losses on a policy for a residence you own and occupy when the chargeable loss was against a policy for a residence you did not occupy, but rented or leased to another party. Similarly, we do not count losses on a policy for a residence you rent or lease to another party, when the chargeable loss was against a policy for a residence you owned and also occupied.

- Loss paid under Medical Payments to Others.
- Loss paid under the Personal Articles Floater or under the Scheduled Personal Articles Floater.
- Subrogated* losses or losses that have been assigned for possible subrogation, as long as none of the following applies;

It is determined that you were at fault; or

You are found to have been negligent; or

You did not assist us in the processing of the claim (by providing requested information, for example).

*Subrogation is defined as "substituting one person for another". When an insurance company pays the insured for a loss for which another party is responsible, the company may "subrogate" and take over the insured's right to collect from that party.

We understand this information about "qualified losses" is somewhat technical in nature. Please call your Farmers[®] agent if you have questions.

Notice of Information Practices California

Why did we send you this notice?

The State of California requires all insurance companies to tell customers about their information practices. Information practices include things companies do to gather and share information about customers. Insurance companies need information to make decisions. They make all sorts of day-to-day decisions: who to insure, how much to charge, how to handle claims, and others.

What are your rights?

Our information practices extend to applicants and policyholders (past and present). State and federal laws give you certain rights when you take part in transactions having to do with insurance for yourself, your family, or your household.

We send our customers a notice called the "Farmers Privacy Notice." The Farmers Privacy Notice does not limit any rights you may have - as a consumer, claimant, or beneficiary. Your state gives you additional protections. They are explained in this notice.

How do we collect the information?

You give us most of the information we need when you apply for insurance. Much of it is made up of common, practical facts: your employment information, your driving record, your age, where you live, and other things like that. Many times, we need more information. Or we may need to verify information you've given us. When that happens, we normally ask for a report from an outside source. That source can be a consumer reporting agency or an insurance support organization. Both provide information in the form of consumer reports. Most insurance companies use these; it's a common industry practice.

Sometimes one of these outside sources needs to gather information before they can prepare an investigative consumer report. This could be done as part of a fraud investigation, for example. They might then contact you, another adult member of your household, or a neighbor by phone or in person. If this happens, you can, as the Named Insured, ask us to interview you or your spouse as well. We will make every effort to honor your request.

What types of information do we collect?

Auto - While taking your application for insurance and to service policies covering your personal vehicles, we may obtain information about

- How you use your vehicle(s), including annual mileage
- Age, personal habits, and characteristics of drivers
- Credit information
- History of accidents, driving violations, arrests or convictions, and claims
- Previous insurance experience

Property - While taking your application for insurance and to service policies covering your real and personal property, we may obtain information about

- Type of construction and square footage of dwelling
- Heating system and other physical characteristics of the property
- Care and maintenance of the property
- Credit information
- Claims history
- Previous insurance experience
- Personal habits and characteristics of the property's occupants

What do we do with the information?

We use the information we collect about you to perform insurance functions. This includes

- Underwriting and servicing your policy
- Processing claims (we may obtain information relating to health and employment)

- Investigating potential fraud
- Other activities permitted by state and federal law

Here's an example: If you ask us to set up a payment by electronic funds transfer, we may obtain financial information for a particular bank account.

We may also disclose information to other parties. The law permits us to do this without your prior authorization when the information goes, for example, to these parties:

1. Your Farmers[®] agent - to service your policy.
2. Persons who need this information to perform normal business functions for us.
3. Persons conducting actuarial or research studies on our behalf.
4. Another insurance company or an insurance support organization - to perform an insurance transaction, or to detect or prevent criminal activity or fraud in connection with an insurance transaction.
5. A medical professional or medical care institution - to verify insurance coverage or benefits or to inform an individual of a medical problem the individual may not know about.
6. An insurance regulatory authority.
7. Law enforcement or other governmental authority.
8. A group policyholder - to report claims experience or conduct an audit of our operations, but only as needed to conduct the review or audit.
9. Affiliates, as permitted by law. The law allows us to share your financial information with our affiliates to market products or services to you, and does not allow customers to restrict that disclosure.

Reconstruction Cost and Your Coverage A (Dwelling) Amount

Policy Number: 33667-75-00

This document contains important information about your insurance coverage. Please review this information carefully.

Do You Think You Have Enough Coverage?

At renewal your policy will provide $366 per square foot to rebuild your home. (This does not include any additional amount added by extension or endorsement to your policy.)

When you first obtained your policy, Farmers® used an estimating program to calculate a reconstruction cost estimate for your home. This was an estimate, not a guarantee of reconstruction costs.

For this renewal offer we have applied a reconstruction cost factor as part of the annual renewal process. Since we do not unilaterally reduce the Coverage A amount at renewal, there will be no change in the Coverage A amount if application of the factor would result in a decrease in the Coverage A amount. The chart below shows the amount for which we have offered to insure your home at renewal as well as the reconstruction cost estimate with the factor applied (see below). We will calculate a new estimate, rather than apply the reconstruction cost factor, upon request or when you notify us of changes to the features of your home.

Coverage A (Dwelling) Amount offered to insure your home at renewal:	$614,000
Reconstruction Cost Estimate:	$614,000

Please review the next page to make sure the details about your home are correct, and let me know of any necessary changes. Changes to these details could result in a change to the reconstruction cost estimate. Feel free to contact me at any time if you want a new estimate calculated or if you want to make a change to the amount for which your home is insured.

It's important to understand that reconstruction cost is NOT the same as the market value of your home.

Reconstruction Cost

Reconstruction cost is the amount it would cost to rebuild your home if it were destroyed. It includes costs like materials and labor and city/county fees. It is not what a buyer would pay for your home or the amount of your mortgage. It does not include the value or cost of the land.

Market Value

Market value is the price a buyer would pay to purchase the home, including the land and property, in its current condition. It takes into account the location, the desirability of the property, changes in the housing market, and the economy. It does not take into account the cost to build a new home.

Questions to Consider When You are Determining Your Coverage:

- Is the square footage accurate?
- Have you remodeled your kitchen, bathrooms or any other part of your home?
- What is the overall quality of your home? (See the Quality Grade definitions later in this document.)

Information We Have About Your Home.

Please review the information below about your home for accuracy. Additionally, keep in mind that the amount for which we have offered to insure your home is not a guarantee of reconstruction costs. Again, feel free to contact me if you want to make a change to your Coverage A amount.

Foundation Shape: 6-7 Corners - L Shape

Please note that the above information is not an all inclusive list of the individual home features that would be used to recalculate your estimate, but would be major contributors to the development of that estimate. If you desire a complete list of all home features or any other information, please contact me so I can provide that information. Please see the next page for definitions of selected reconstruction cost terms.

There are other coverages and/or options that may be right for you, including those that follow. Some may not be available based on your policy form and/or some may have additional underwriting requirements.

Extended Replacement Cost Coverage: With this coverage and subject to its provisions, we pay to repair or replace damage from a loss covered under Coverage A up to an additional 25% or 50% of the Coverage A amount, depending on which percentage options, if any, are available in your state for your policy form. If your policy does not have this coverage, or if a higher coverage limit is available, you may consider adding or increasing this coverage for an additional premium. This coverage may provide an additional layer of protection as your policy does not provide Guaranteed Replacement Cost coverage.

Building Ordinance or Law Coverage: Your policy has limited Building Ordinance or Law coverage to pay for costs that result from having to rebuild in compliance with updated building codes. You may be able to increase the amount of this coverage for additional premium.

Personal Property: You may also be able to purchase increased coverage for certain items of personal property. These items may include but are not limited to jewelry, watches, electronic data processing equipment, fine arts, firearms, silverware, and other collectibles.

Please contact me to discuss any of the coverages or options listed above.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

As a member of Farmers Insurance Exchange, we want you to understand the basics of the operation of an Exchange because, as you will see below, you are an owner of the Exchange.

What is an Exchange?

An Exchange is an insurance organization, which operates in most ways like any other insurance company, but with a few key differences. Farmers Insurance Exchange was organized under a provision in the California Insurance Code, which allows insureds to "exchange" policies with other insureds. Because the insureds cannot practically be involved in actually issuing policies, collecting premium, paying commissions to agents, etc., they appoint a third party - called an "attorney-in-fact" (AIF) - to perform those duties on their behalf for a fee. That appointment is made through a document called a "Subscription Agreement." You were asked to sign a Subscription Agreement at the time you applied for insurance with Farmers Insurance Exchange and that is how you became a member (aka subscriber).

Who owns the Exchange?

You do. Subscribers of the Exchange are owners until such time as they no longer have insurance from the Exchange. Subscribers elect a Board of Governors which supervises the financial affairs of the Exchange and the performance of the AIF in conformity with the Subscription Agreement terms.

Why is an AIF fee paid to Farmers Underwriters Association (FUA)?

Under the Subscription Agreement mentioned above, members appoint FUA to perform certain of the tasks, such as policy issuance and collection of premium, which are involved in running an insurance operation. The Subscription Agreement specifies an AIF fee of 20 percent of premium, although FUA has taken less than that amount.

What is FUA?

FUA is the business name utilized by Farmers Group, Inc. (FGI) to describe its functions as the AIF for Farmers Insurance Exchange. FGI is part of the Zurich Insurance Group, Ltd (ZIG), a Swiss company. Neither FUA, FGI nor ZIG has any ownership interest in Farmers Insurance Exchange, which is owned by its subscribers (insureds).

How was your premium dollar spent by Farmers Insurance Exchange in 2021?

Your premium dollar covers Exchange costs including losses incurred, acquisition costs, taxes, license fees, the AIF fee, and any contributions to surplus. For 2021, the AIF fee was 12.7% of the premium dollar, which included the AIF profit of 6.48% of the premium dollar for that year.

Can the Exchange lose money?

If premiums collected exceed claims payments and other expenses (including the fee for the AIF), then the Exchange retains those net premium earnings (as contributions to surplus). If premiums are not sufficient to cover claims and expenses, the Exchange will lose money. That's one reason it is important to build surplus to pay future losses. The AIF does not participate in claims losses and does not enjoy any net premium earnings. Importantly, subscribers are not responsible for any losses the Exchange might suffer.

How can I exercise my right to vote?

You may exercise your voting rights in any of the following ways:

1. By attending the annual members' meeting in Woodland Hills, CA on March 20, 2023 at 2 PM,
2. Electronically through your Farmers.com account (voting will be available from January 1, 2023 to March 10, 2023 and you will be required to create a Farmers.com account if you do not already have one), or
3. Through mail by requesting a paper proxy from the Subscriber Relations Office (completed proxies must be received by March 10, 2023)

Where can I get more information about the Exchange, or obtain a paper proxy?

You can go to www.farmers.com/about-us for most questions. If you have additional questions or want to obtain a paper proxy along with a postage paid envelope to confidentially return your proxy, please contact:
